

Table of Contents

		Topics	Useful Language
	1 Introducing Email Page 6	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> parts of the email screen parts of an email email management netiquette 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> identifying functions of email programs in English writing subject lines, salutations, opening and closing sentences, and complimentary closes dealing effectively with email correspondence discussing communication and technology
	2 Inquiries Page 14	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> email and website addresses inquiries the tone of requests expressing urgency 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> saying and writing email and website addresses writing and replying to inquiries making requests polite and formal making requests urgent
	3 Requesting Action Page 22	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> small talk in emails deadlines requesting to have something done refusing requests expressing urgency 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> discussing small talk requesting the status of tasks and setting deadlines asking people to take action explaining why something can't be done making things urgent
	4 Informing and Replying Page 30	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> informing and replying professionally informal emails clarifying matters diplomatic language 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> writing to inform or replying to informative emails using colloquial language and contractions talking about problems and solutions softening news about problems
	5 Making and Confirming Arrangements Page 38	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> making arrangements prepositions of time changing arrangements confirming plans instant messaging 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> setting appointment dates, times, and locations using at, in, by, and on to make arrangements canceling, postponing, and rescheduling following up and reminding using instant messaging to make arrangements
	6 Dealing with Problems Page 46	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> making a complaint apologizing dealing with problems 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> writing internal and external complaints acknowledging complaints, explaining why problems occurred, and apologizing suggesting resolutions to complaints